STAFF

Staff members keep the rhythm of learning going by teaching the students the differences between right and wrong. They help students build knowledge, maturity, and awareness of the tasks ahead. They are the guiding light of keeping Warriors on the road to success.

ABLE STAFF MEMBERS KEEP OUR

Mr. Robert Miller, principal, and Mr. Donald Sell, assistant principal, display the new announcement board.

This year Mrs. Julia Murtaugh became Kekionga's second guidance counselor.

Secretaries Mrs. Martha Hursh and Mrs. Rosemary Goldman confer on school matters.

Head guidance counselor Mr. Larry Johnson.

FACILITIES IN RHYTHMIC ORDER

Before coming to Kekionga in 1964, Mr. Miller was principal of Abbott Elementary School. When not at Kekionga, his hobbies are golf and the theatre. He also has an interest in art. When Mr. Sell first came to Kekionga he taught algebra. His favorite hobbies are boating, skiing, and golfing. The guidance department had changes and additions this year. Mr. Johnson took over as head counselor, and a storeroom was converted to an office for Mrs. Murtaugh. Both are welcome additions to Kekionga. Mrs. Goldman handles telephone calls, attendance lists, and school records. Mrs. Hursh manages the school's business interests as treasurer. Both are indispensable.

The task of keeping the school building clean and running smoothly is the responsibility of the custodians. Head custodian, Mr. Warble Robbins, among his other duties, sees that all jobs are completed. Mrs. Lois Steup is our matron; she takes care of the lighter work. Members of the night shift, Tom Parisot and Ed Smallback, clean and arrange classrooms and halls as part of their duties. Mrs. Evelyn Dennis heads the kitchen staff as dietician. Under her direction, the cooks try very hard to make the food tasty, as well as having the right amount of proteins and vitamins.

The custodial staff, Ed Smallbach, Warble Robbins, and Lois Steup.

ACADEMICS

The pace of learning races on during the Warrior school year. Homeroom starts each day by giving students a chance to finish assignments and receive guidance from teachers. Six fifty-five minute class periods, a hectic half-hour lunch period, and varied seventh period activities compose a normal day at Kekionga.

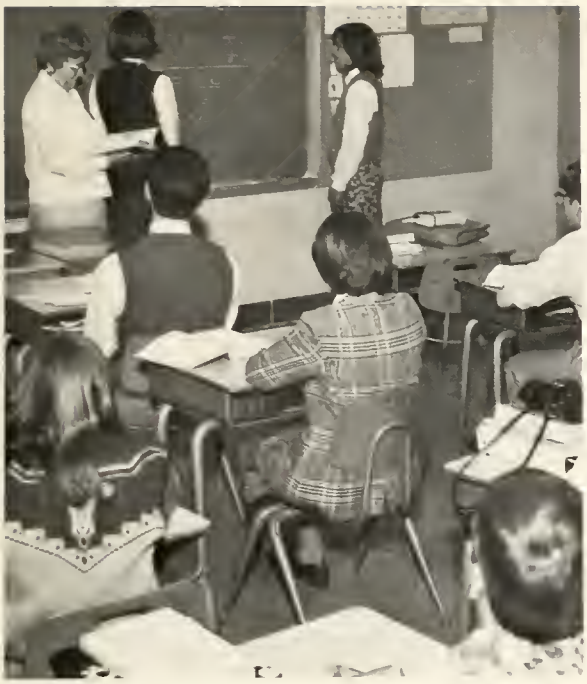
MASTERY IS KEY IN LANGUAGES,

Mr. Goslee points out French fundamentals.

Warriors identify objects with their Spanish names.

Each ninth grader may choose one foreign language as one of their electives. The languages available are French, Spanish, and Latin. The teachers, with the help of textbooks, movies, filmstrips, tapes, and records enable their students to learn basic language fundamentals.

Mr. Beckley lectures on the basics of Latin language.



Algebra students change written problems into equations.

Experiments are done in biology class to prove certain points.

MATHEMATICS, SCIENCES, HEALTH

Biology and algebra problems are to equip the Warriors for high schools and colleges. General math and science stress basics.

Health students see many basic processes, from personal hygiene to proper digestion.

Mr. Derbyshire points out certain parts of the human body.

SKILL IS STRESSED IN ART, SHOP,

In shop, the boys learn the art of carpentry and drafting.

Future homemakers are preparing a complete and nutritious meal.

Students are preparing to paint their own acrylic painting. They also form pottery.

HOMEMAKING, PHYSICAL TRAINING

Boy's gym classes play an exciting basketball game.

Climbing the rope is part of physical education courses.

Ceramics, painting, and drawing are practiced in all art classes.

Girls in home economics prepare for their future by learning management, sewing, cooking methods.

Boys in industrial arts display their abilities, from planning to building many personal creations.

Physical education classes meet every other day. Skills and techniques are developed in all areas of sports and physical awareness.

ENGLISH PRESCRIBES PROFICIENCY

SRA Reading Labs are used by seventh graders to improve and build their reading skills.

Developmental language will be discontinued after this year. This subject has given eighth graders great opportunities in public speaking situations.

New approaches were used this year in teaching grammar. Structural grammar books lead to new concepts. New literature books enlivened interests.

Pantomimes develop ingenuity in Developmental Language.

Research papers mean notecards, notecards, notecards!

Seventh graders dramatize a play from Scope magazine.

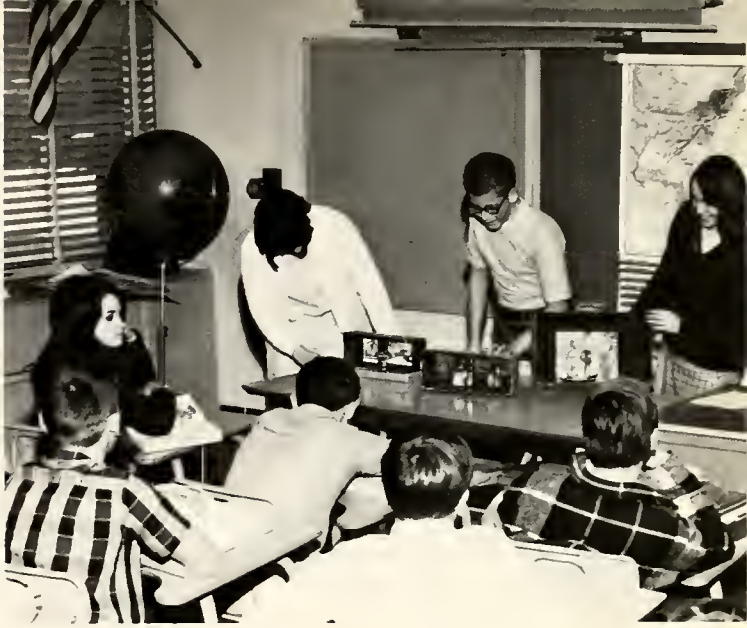
Discovery is the word in history classes. Eighth graders study our country, from wars to politics, causes to effects.

Land forms, climates, and products of the world are studied by first year Warriors. They are also taught Indiana History.

Problems of our world are discussed and debated by freshmen in citizenship.



Historical events are captured and displayed in models.

BETTER LIVING IS EMPHASIZED

Debates often get heated in citizenship.

World capitals are located in geography classes.

DUTIES, TALENTS ARE STRESSED

Mrs. Robbins explains a few of the many reference materials available in the library.

With term papers, reports, and speeches due, the library was crowded with learning. Then too, the purchasing of paperback books stimulated reading.

Composers, famous works of music, and orchestra instruments are studied by seventh grade general music students. The eighth and ninth grade choirs, directed by Mr. Friend, perform for special events.

Service-worker, Cheryl James, pauses from her many duties in helping the staff.

Jean Allen begins practice on the newly purchased harp.

ACTIVITIES

The "club beat" goes on this year with more and varied activities. Carrying on with the old traditions and forming new ideas as the year goes on, Warriors learn important facts, pursue interesting, invigorating activities, and perform vital services for school and community.

STUDENT COUNCIL BUILDS IDEAS

The Student Council is a method by which the students can vote in order to put their views into action. The members are selected by the students in the homerooms. All homerooms vote to choose one representative and one alternate. Besides discussing problems, the Student Council aids those activities as Red Cross drives, buying various items, the Christmas Bureau, and many more worthy causes.

The officers of the Student Council are from left to right: Bethany Hoag, treasurer; Jeffery Brown, parliamentarian; Paul Mathias, president; Michael Hanke, vice-president; Carol Nelson, secretary.

Although planning for yearbooks is a great deal of fun, plus good experience, the 1969 Tomahawk was tedious work! It took longer than one period precisely once a week. Co-editors, Karen Bradtmiller and John Alexander sincerely hope the long hours engaged in preparation illustrate another eventful year.

Tomahawk editors rush to complete final pages.

TOMAHAWK ILLUSTRATES MEMORIES

The Tomahawk staff from left to right are: L. Lee, S. Kline, L. Olson, J. Conway, J. Alexander, K. Bradtmiller, G. Gemple, J. Brown, K. Bennett, S. Richards, Mr. Stookey, adviser. SECOND ROW: M. Spear, M. Lee, J. Keyser, C. Nelson, S. Demaree, W. Hoffman, K. Teeters, S. Kiesten, K. Corkwell, J. Grooes, V. Staker. THIRD ROW: P. McIntosh, B. Ruelle, G. Hopkins, C. Renner, B. Kimmel, D. Lobdell, G. Keyser, L. Pearson, S. Johnson, S. McCabe, D. Shepler.

ARROWHEAD TARGETS FOR SUCCESS

Fighting to produce a newspaper that pleases the attention of the Warriors is what the entire staff sought. A new camera, added articles, varied designs, all helped the Arrowhead emphasize the items which made the greatest news.

Deadline in ten minutes!

Quintilian editors Nancy Schory and Wendy Hughes make final plans.

Wyandottes practiced acting in speech meets, a Christmas pageant, spring play, and impromptu speaking situations. Warriors created more poems, short stories and essays for the literary magazine, Quintilian, than ever! The members voted for the change in name and content as a pledge for even higher standards.

TALENT IS PRESENTED, PUBLISHED

LANGUAGE CLUBS CAPTURE ZEAL

Latin Club members learn to find many historic Roman settlements.

Spanish Club members prepare for a great celebration.

This year language clubs viewed the peoples behind the languages. "Spaniards" performed in Spanish, presented puppet shows, and built pinatas. French Club students of all grades learned basic words to use on any Frenchman. Latin members planned colorful banquets to recreate the splendor of Rome.

Quelle heure est il?

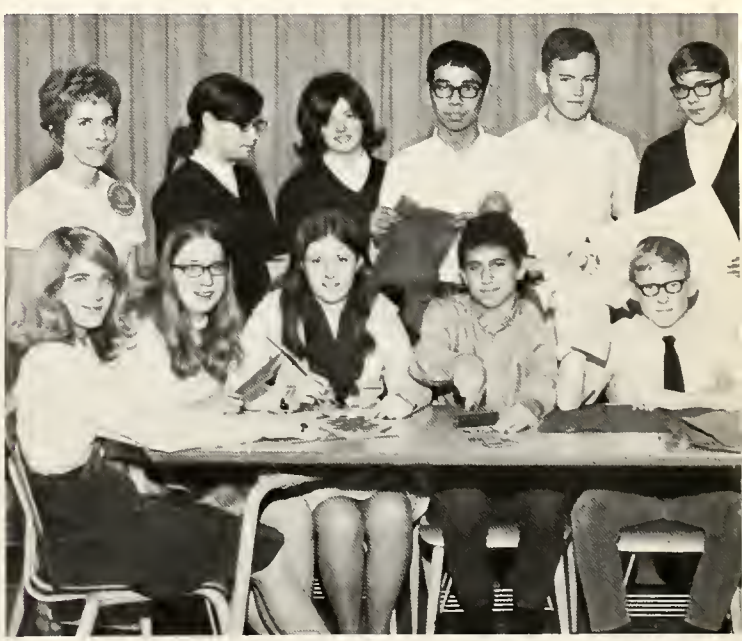
OTHERS STRIVE TO IMPROVE SKILLS

The Art Club helps students strive for creativity and greater knowledge of art, while the Judo Club, new this year, aims to gain skill in an art of self defense. In Typing Club Warriors develope agility in the skill of typing.

Peck, peck, peck—ding! Peck, peck, peck—ding!

Judo members practice movements as Mr. Wolford sets an example.

Art Club practices fundamentals and does things not possible in class.



EVENTS, FIGURES, MONEY EXCEL

World Affairs members and their sponsor, Miss Butler

One major project of the World Affairs Club was the mock Presidential Election. Members encouraged a 77% turnout. They also staged mock United Nations General Assembly debates. Math Club offered "brain teasers" for those with special interests. Members also planned trips to institutes using computers and IBM. This year Banking Club held an annual drive to encourage more students to bank. Many took advantage of the chance to save.

Mr. Dick explains to Jim McFadden about the slide ruler.

Sponsor, Mr. Lippe, watches as Jerry Conway receives money from a weekly banker.

Book Club and Library Club emphasize students aiding students. This year Book Club members gave other students a chance to order paperback books. They also discussed the latest books they had read. Library Club is for students who wish to help in the library. Their work goes on before school, after school, and during study periods.

Students make plans for their annual Book Fair.

READING SERVICE IS EXTENDED

Service workers in the library donate many hours of their time.

IS IT SPICE, STITCH, SPLICE?

Girls learn fundamentals in cooking and sewing.

Girls in Hem and Eggs worked on several projects this year. One was making stuffed animals for friends and relatives. Another project was planning different and unique recipes. They also tried embroidery. In Audio Visual Club, interested boys learned to operate, maintain, and clean the equipment. Advancement was the word for girls in Knitting Club this year. They began doing simple stitches and ended with projects, from scarfs to sweaters.

Over-under-around-and-through the film makes its way to you.

Knitting and gossiping go hand in hand.

Golf Club consists of seventh, eighth, and ninth graders.

PRACTICE PROMOTES PERFECTION

Golf Club became the most competitive of the clubs this year. Time was devoted longer than seventh periods in competition with clubs from Ben Geyer, Harrison Hill, and Franklin Junior Highs. Boys' Intramurals stressed physical fitness for 1969. Fitness was gained in basketball, volleyball, and track. Bowling Club boasted fourteen teams totaling sixty-six members. High scorers were Kim Currie, Keith Manter, Jeani Kuzeff, and Karen Wall.

Strike?!

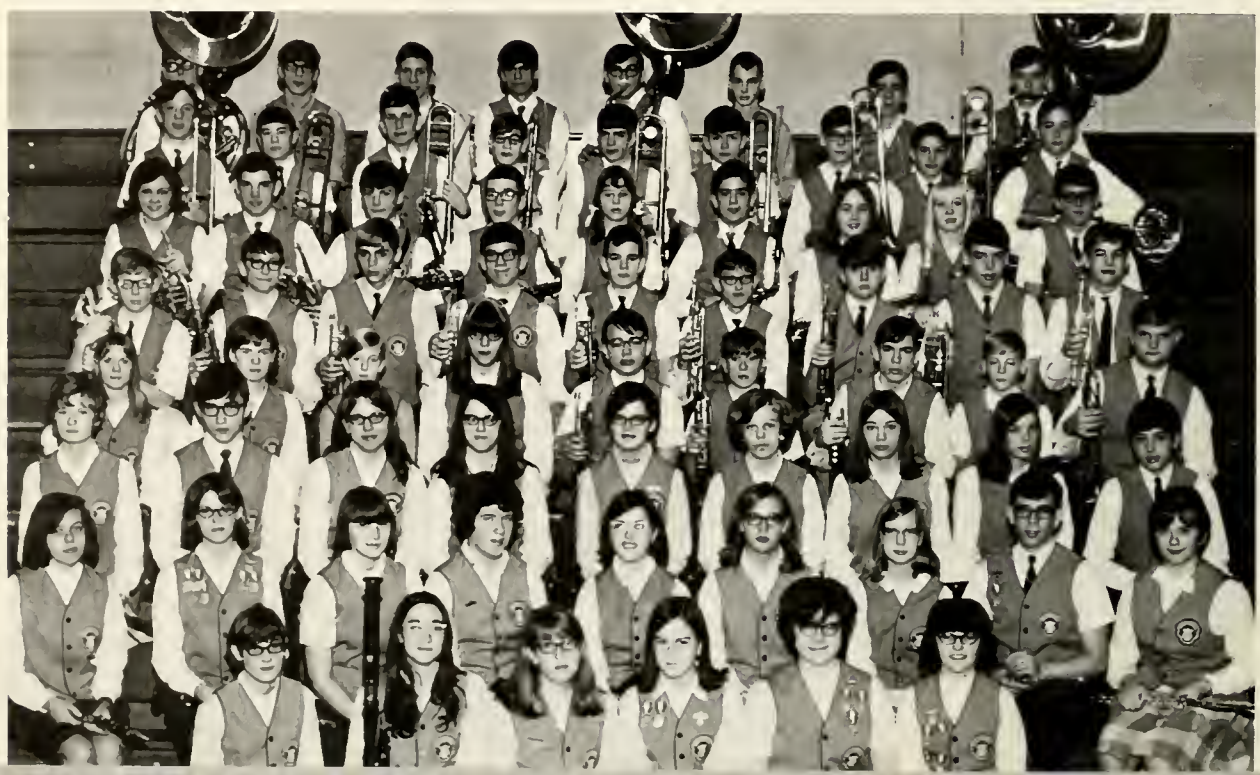
Boys' Intramurals strengthens muscles.

BRASS, WOODWIND, PERCUSSION . . .

First chair brass are, from left to right, Dave Lee, John Strauss, Dave Schinbeckler, SECOND ROW Gary Gilpin, Rick Heeter, Tim Wilson, Randy Carr.

First chair woodwinds are, from left to right, Patty Wetzel, Betty Krach, Wendy Hughes, SECOND ROW Karen Shelly, Terry Polley, Elaine Kay.

The 1969 Concert Band



The Cadet Band is composed of seventh and eighth grade Warriors.

The 1969 Concert Band performed for the Wyandotte's play, "Christmas Dolls Review;" the Spring Concert; and at varsity basketball games. Seventh and eighth graders in Cadet Band practiced many long hours in preparation for the limelight of pleasing a crowd. Kekionga's Orchestra was an example of how serious students were about music. It was not required; all time devoted for the concert and contests was given.

STRING STRESS PERFECT TIMING

Outstanding musicians perform in orchestra.

FRIENDLY CHOIRS ENJOY SINGING

Ninth grade choir spends many hours practicing.

Perfection is what the ninth and eighth grade choirs sought this year, under the direction of Mr. Jerry Friend. The choir members met on alternating days throughout the year. Ninth grade choir held three major productions this year. Singers added spirit and mood to the Christmas program; enlivened the Spring Concert; and delighted area elementary students with their traveling program. The eighth grade spent hours making practice perfect.

Choir members in eighth grade plan for next year's events.

Girls Ensemble prepare for the Spring Concert.

Girls in Intramurals changed activities with the seasons this year. In the fall the girls were involved in soccer and football; in the winter, tumbling, gymnastics, and basketball were the main events; then in the spring, softball, tennis and track wrapped up an eventful year of physical fitness. Girls' Ensemble emphasized the vocal by participating in various programs throughout the year. They gave a performance during the Christmas program; performed on tours at Maplewood, Waynedale, and Indian Village elementary schools; added zest to the Spring Concert; and gave a "Tiny Tim" special at the talent show.

Girls in Intramurals play volleyball, the sport of the season.

GIRLS ILLUSTRATE TECHNIQUES

Y-TEENS STRESS CITIZENSHIP

Y-Teens form a Y to emphasize their association. The sponsors are Miss Anderson and Miss Strahm. The officers are left to right, BOTTOM ROW: Jody Longstreet, secretary; Margy Spear, ninth-grade representative; Sharon Cox, seventh grade representative; Sue Mason, vice-president; Carol Nelson, president; Geneie Hopkins, treasurer; Sandy McCabe, eighth-grade representative; and Kim Hill, devotions.

This past year Y-Teens have participated in many events, both in and out of school. They had a Halloween party for the children at the Allen County Childrens' Home, and also gave a big birthday party for the welfare children whose birthdays were in January. They had a skating party for Y-Teen members and their guests, and they also sponsored the Christmas social, "Peppermint Swirl", which had a large turnout. One of their biggest and best attractions this year was the annual talent show, "Story Land", which was enjoyable and was a grand success.

Raggedy Ann (Geneie Hopkins) dances in "Story Land."

SPORTS

1502327

The roar of the victory or the quiet of second place go well together to prove Warrior sportsmanship. The key is the group of individuals making the team. Only through this team effort can the heart of the Warriors' pride and spirit go on—to be silhouetted on many Warriors to come.

BOTTOM ROW left to right manager R. Bloom, S. Sorgen, J. Chaney, D. Wiles, J. Kline, K. Johnson, M. Nole, manager T. Piatt SECOND ROW coach Carl Mosser, J. Brickley, R. Heeter, H. Romines, B. Loyd, S. Smith, R. Johnson, S. Wallace, J. Vondran THIRD ROW J. McFadden, M. Brown, J. Strauss, S. Demaree, B. Baxter, M. Moore, K. Koorsen, L. Allison FOURTH ROW S. Isenbarger, J. Brown, R. Busch, B. Habeger, P. Mathias, T. George, V. Wall, W. Hoffman.

The Varsity Gridders completed a successful football season this year. Defeating top ranked Lane at the first bout gave the Warriors a spirited year. Defeating Fairfield in the last game of the year showed that the well-adjusted team had set the pace for future sports events with the winning spirit in their minds.

For the 1968 City cross-country champs, practice began in early September. The Warriors worked hard throughout the fall for an undefeated season record. The high point of the season was topping undefeated Northwood. This victory gave the harriers the boost to take City. In the City meet Paul Ausderan placed second, John Alexander third, Mike McDonald seventh, Dave Schinbeckler eleventh, and Gary Grotrian fifteenth.

VARSITY PROVE TOUGH TO BEAT

The 1968-69 varsity basketball team kept the winning tradition that Kekionga is so accustomed to. The varsity finished the season with an excellent 11 and 5 record. The rather rough beginnings turned into sweet victory as the season advanced for the Warriors. The few losses came mostly during season openers. Additional practices and added team efforts began the victory trail that didn't stop until tourney action with Fairfield in the semi-final game. Season top scorers were Jeff Brown, Paul Mathais, and Mike Brown.

Over one-hundred seventh, eighth, and ninth graders turned out for the first track practice of 1969. Hours of calisthenics, running and sweat soon cut down the numbers. Both varsity and reserve teams had eight combined meets this year. Varsity led the way in track and field events. All put forth a great deal of effort in preparation for the opening meet with Northwood, April 10. Early practices lead the Warriors to hope for a victorious season.

TRACKMEN MAKE CINDERS FLY

Over seventy seventh and eighth graders participated in track and field events.

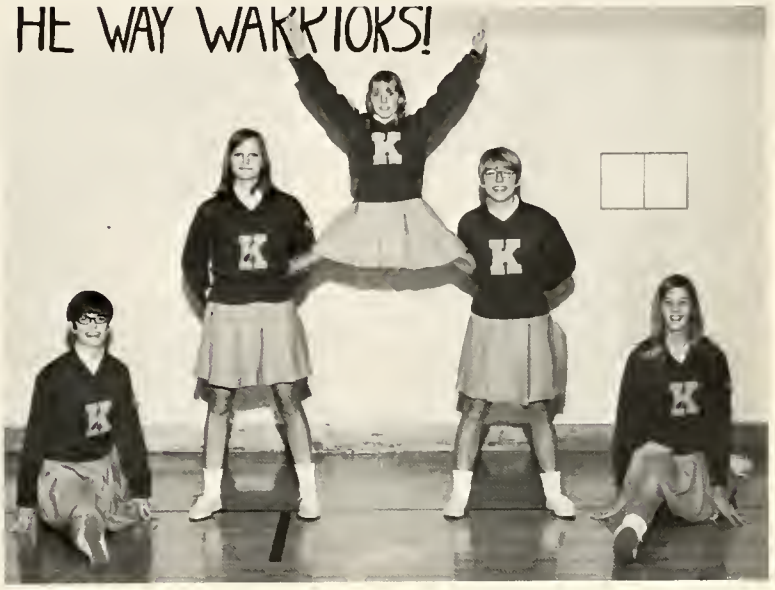
CHEERLEADERS SPIRIT LETTERMEN

Warrior sportsmen earning letters avidly supported their Lettermen's Club new project of selling Warrior decals. Lettermen added over $500.00 to the athletic fund; and decals were seen on books, lockers, and cars. Kekionga cheerleaders and Booster Club also added fine support to the Warriors. Reserve and varsity cheerleaders lead hours of practice to back their teams.



Reserve cheerleaders are Geneie Hopkins, Rikki Perry, Rose Jeffrey, Kim Hill, and Sue Kiester.

Top salesman Ken Koorsen convinces Cathy Clare to buy another booster decal.

Lettermen proudly display their well earned letter jackets.

The varsity cheerleaders are from front to back: Karen Dickey, Margy Spear, Beth Hoag, Jan Keyser and Carol Nelson.

SPIRIT, SPORTSMANSHIP ABOUND

The Booster Club provides spirit and sportsmanship for our great Warrior basketball teams.

WARRIORS

The Warrior beat was on this year with the largest enrollment ever! A total of 924 Warriors crowded halls, lunch lines, clubs and bleachers. The freshmen had the largest class with 337 students. The middlemen warriors had 311 students in their class, while the youngest Warriors had only 276.

The pace of pupils,
the cadence of classes,
the throb of thought,
the rhythm of reason,
the pulse of participation,
the vibration of vitality,
the BEAT — THE WARRIOR BEAT beats,
throbs,
paces, pulses
its rhythmic vibration of cadence into INFINITY.
